

Special Education Transfer Pathway

Associate of Science (AS) Degree

Program Description

The Special Education Transfer Pathway Associate of Science (AS) degree program offers students a powerful option: the opportunity to complete an Associate of Science degree with course credits that directly transfer to designated Special Education bachelor's degree programs at Minnesota State universities. The curriculum has been specifically designed so that students completing this pathway degree and transferring to one of the five Minnesota State universities enter the university with junior-year status. All courses in the Transfer Pathway associate degree will directly transfer and apply to the designated bachelor's degree programs in a related field.

Minnesota State Universities - Designated Degrees

- Minnesota State University, Mankato: ABS Special Education
- Minnesota State University, Moorhead
- Southwest Minnesota State University: Special Education BS
- St. Cloud State University: Special Education (ABS Licensure) BS
- Winona State University

Program Goals

By completing this program, students will achieve the following learning goals:

- Develop and utilize processes to identify the special needs, strengths, and experiences of exceptional learners in each of the thirteen disability categories;
- Develop and demonstrate competence in how special education mandated practices function through collaborative practices with other system components within a single-education system;
- 3. Demonstrate competence and understanding in analyzing principles related to legal aspects, ethics, and standards of professional practices;
- 4. Understand and be familiar with how gender, familial background, socioeconomic status, race, culture, existing or potential medical aspects of a learner, and linguistic diversity can impact a learner's disability:
- Understand and demonstrate competence in student referral procedures and assessment practices in designing Individual Education Programs (IEP process); and
- 6. Demonstrate competence using educational technology.
